Tabletop Collection

The designs of the SkLO Tabletop Collection comprise a joyful variety of shapes rendered in handblown glass of many colors and finishes. They are meant to be beautiful objects to live with, to please the eye, and to fit the hand enjoyably. Our work celebrates the importance of the handmade object and the variations that inevitably result. Every piece is blown one at a time of the finest glass by the most talented artisans.

Diamond Glass

The well-balanced proportions of the Diamond Glass make it sculptural when on display and a pleasure to use. Perfectly sized for wine, water or cocktails. Available in three vibrant transparent glass colors in either a frosted or standard glass finish.

Bell Decanter

A curving “S” silhouette gives the Bell Decanter its name. Reversed from the curve of the matching Bell Glasses, the decanter is broad and flat at the base, and narrows toward the top, curving into a flared rim. The Bell Decanter is a stately, classic form that exudes gravity. Available in three vibrant transparent glass colors in either a frosted or standard glass finish.

Trace Glass

The sophisticated silhouette of the Trace Glass hints at traditional wine glass shapes while embracing a modern sophistication. With a gracefully curved base, the glass appears to float above the table. A perfect wine glass, Trace also brings a beautiful touch to water and fresh juices. Available in three vibrant transparent glass colors in either a frosted or standard glass finish.

Tilt Glass

True to their name, each Tilt Glass is intentionally crafted with a subtle yet unpredictable off-center tilt. Despite their playful appearance, they remain perfectly stable. The wobble of their appearance is beautiful when displayed in a group. The glasses have a rounded shape with color applied at the top rim that swirls irregularly downward around the glass in curving waves. Available in two transparent glass colors plus opaque white.

Tilt Decanter

The spherical base of the Tilt Decanter transitions into a narrow neck with a flared mouth – designed to feel great in the hand and pour perfectly. As the name suggests, these decanters are intentionally crafted with a subtle yet unpredictable off-center tilt, which varies from piece to piece. The color in the glass starts densely at the top and flows downward over the spherical base in an irregular, uncontrolled movement. Available in two transparent glass colors plus opaque white.
